1. the importance of the W/T program was again emphasized. We cannot permit ourselves to be lulled into casualness with reference to this project on which we have failed for over a year. We were under extreme pressure to develop this program as long as the Berlin crisis was current. We shall be under similar pressure should another such crisis occur. In addition, extreme and justifiable censure will be far greater as we have already had considerable time on the target. Should we be forced out of Austria without leaving adequate W/T networks behind, the organization as a whole and the station in particular would be liable to extreme and justifiable censure.
